

These some of my sexy vans. After going on dates, most of them end in the back of my van because I am charming. My vans always attracts women. They offer both privacy and space while being comfortable. Everyone will want a sexy van because of my success with them.

This is one of my many vehicles. It may look like an ordinary van, but it is very heavily modified. My sexy friend, Laura said it's sexy. I had the backseats removed and a very comfortable bed installed! Also, I made it virtually sound-proof! These options cost me a lot of money, but I have lots to spend.

This is my other van. This picture was taken at the dealership, that's why there is a paper on the window. Since I bought this van, I have heavily modified it.. It is very spacious and comfortable.

This is the interior. The seats can fold down to create a comfortable bed! Also, the seats are heated and able to vibrate! Also, there are pull down shades for privacy and an excellent sound system! When I go out with this van, I am always turning heads. When I park it, people come up to it to see what is inside. Of course they can't see what's inside because of the tinted windows.

I can never have too many vans! I consider this my luxury van because of all the heavy modifications and silk fabrics inside. I installed shades in this van to add a nice cozy feeling inside. I decorated the inside of this van all my myself. As usual, there's a bed, but there's also a sunroof! I also added a fire extinguisher because I know it'll get hot and steamy in my van (and it's not because I live in California ;-)).
